

YOUTH ENGAGEMENT & CAREER MENTORING

Customised 1-Day Workshop · In-Person · For Career Mentors, Advisors & Youth-Facing Professionals

WHY THIS WORKSHOP?

- Youths today communicate and engage differently – many conventional advisory approaches don't land effectively
- Professionals default to advice-giving rather than facilitation, limiting youth ownership of their own career decisions
- Effective career guidance requires youth-specific relationship and conversation skills beyond domain expertise alone
- Inconsistent engagement practices across mentoring or advisory teams reduce programme-level impact

ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

Drawing on TAC's work with over 60,000 youths, this 1-day in-person workshop equips career advisors, mentors, and youth-facing professionals with practical engagement techniques. Participants gain research-grounded insights on what drives youth career decisions, build structured conversation and facilitation skills, and leave with a personal action plan ready for immediate use.

THE PROGRAMME COMPONENTS

1 DAY · IN-PERSON · CUSTOMISABLE

01 Understanding Youth Today

Research-grounded insights on youth career motivations, engagement, and well-being. Covers communication styles, key influences, and generational context relevant to career advisors.

02 Building Meaningful Relationships

Practical skills for establishing trust and psychological safety. Structured conversation frameworks for facilitating career reflection and guided decision-making without over-directing.

03 Frameworks & Tools For Youth Career Guidance

Evidence-informed frameworks and tools for guiding youths on career guidance through reflective practice. Participants leave with a personal action plan for immediate use.

WHAT PARTICIPANTS WALK AWAY WITH

- A sharper understanding of the youth career landscape in Singapore today – backed by data
- Practical skills to establish trust and psychological safety with youths quickly
- A structured framework to explore and diagnose youth career challenges across all phases
- A personalised action plan to carry learning into practice immediately
